AWR 232 – Mass Fatalities Planning & Response for Rural Communities

West Monroe, La
September 5, 2018

Course: AWR 232 – Mass Fatalities Planning & Response for Rural Communities

The goal of this 8-hour awareness-level course is to teach participants the basics of mass fatality response while providing the opportunities to exchange rural perceptions and brainstorm solutions to simulated emergencies. Responding to a mass fatality incident, which includes the recovery, identification, and reunification of the deceased, is one of the most difficult aspects of a disaster response. Regardless of the agencies or organizations that respond, whether they be governmental agencies or private or non-governmental organizations (NGOs), the responsibility to coordinate and manage these outside resources rests with local authorities.

Audience: Community Volunteers, Emergency Management, Emergency Medical Services, Governmental Administrative Personnel, Healthcare, Law Enforcement, Public Health Providers.

Prerequisites: No prior course requirements
