GOHSEP Launches The Get A Game Plan Podcast

BATON ROUGE (January 30, 2018) – The Governor's Office of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness (GOHSEP) continues to look for innovative ways to help you finalize your emergency plans and learn more about the emergency management process. GOHSEP is excited to announce it has launched The Get A Game Plan Podcast featuring interviews with those involved in emergency management at the local, state and federal levels. It will also feature preparedness tips and highlight emergency resources available to the public.

A podcast is a digital audio file made available on the Internet for download. Listeners wanting to tune in to The Get A Game Plan Podcast can use a computer or smartphone app, and can subscribe so that new installments can be received automatically. The podcasts will provide you with insight on the decision making process within the emergency management community and provide practical information to make you, your family and your business more resilient.

The first two episodes of The Get A Game Plan Podcast are available on GOHSEP's website at www.gohsep.la.gov/RESOURCES/Podcast, along with other podcast outlets such as iTunes, Google Play, Pocket Cast, RSS, Stitcher, Tune In Radio, Otto Radio and Android. A new episode of The Get A Game Plan Podcast is scheduled for release February 12th. New episodes are scheduled for release on the second Monday of each month going forward.

Find more tips on weather and preparedness on GOHSEP's Facebook and Twitter accounts. You can receive emergency alerts on most smartphones and tablets by downloading the new Alert FM App. It is free for basic service. The Get A Game Plan App is another resource available to help you and your family prepare for any type of emergency. You can download the Louisiana Emergency Preparedness Guide and find other information at www.getagameplan.org.
